CAROLINAS COLLEGE'S RADIOLOGIC TECHNOLOGISTS SCORE BIG!

Charlotte, NC – In a report received in June 2015 from the American Registry of Radiologic Technologists (ARRT), the Carolinas College of Health Sciences (CCHS) radiologic technology program learned that 100% of the 13 recent graduates passed the certification exam on the first attempt. This marks 30 out of 31 years where graduates of this program have achieved a 100% pass rate.

Additional results from the registry testing for May 2015 indicate just how significant these results are. Compared to all students taking the exam across the nation, one CCHS student scored in the 99th percentile rank; two hit the 98th percentile; one scored at the 92nd percentile; and three more achieved the 88th percentile. Doug Frankenburg, Director of the Radiologic Technology program stated, "It goes without saying how very proud I am of the Radiologic Technology faculty and students, and how humbled I continue to be in service with them!"

Carolinus College of Health Sciences (www.CarolinusCollege.edu), recently ranked the number one two-year college in the nation for two consecutive years, offers programs in many areas of health care. Graduates consistently exceed state and national certification testing benchmarks, demonstrating their exceptional preparedness in careers such as medical laboratory science, nursing, radiation therapy, histology, radiologic technology, and surgical technology. The College also offers individual courses in the sciences and liberal arts as well as continuing education programs in professional skills and integrative medicine. Carolinas College offers student access to the Carolinas Simulation Center, a rich collection of high fidelity human patient simulators and procedural task trainers.
