

The Center for Prevention Science in Child & Family Health presents...

Child and Family Health Research Symposium

Date: September 12th, 2025

Time: 8am-1pm

Location: Gray Commons Ground Floor NRC Building
Wake Forest Baptist Medical Center,
Winston-Salem, North Carolina

- Present your research on child and family-health from the past year, across the full translational science spectrum. This event is designed as an opportunity to showcase research projects in front of faculty, staff, and colleagues. Open to investigators from across all of Advocate
- Morning refreshments & lunch will be provided
- Plan to Attend
The keynote address by Dr. Arvin Garg will be at 8am followed by a Poster session and Awards Ceremony from 9am-12pm, with lunch provided. Faculty, fellows, residents, graduate students & medical students with the most meritorious research posters will be selected for awards.

Event Registration:

https://redcap.link/event_registration_CPSCFH

Abstract Submission:

https://redcap.link/abstractRFA_CPSCFH

- Virtual Option
Keynote address and research presentations will be both recorded both and broadcast via virtual platforms.
- A call for abstracts will be sent across the enterprise.
- Refer to the Center website for abstract submission and guidelines:
<https://school.wakehealth.edu/research/institutes-and-centers/center-for-prevention-science-in-child-and-family-health>
- Contact Selina Quinones squinone@wakehealth.edu if you have any questions.

