While you are in Charlotte, get to know Carolinas HealthCare System.

Carolinan HealthCare System (CHS), one of the nation's leading and most innovative healthcare organizations, provides a full spectrum of health and wellness programs throughout North and South Carolina. Its diverse network of facilities includes academic medical centers, hospitals, healthcare pavilions (freestanding emergency departments), physician practices, behavioral health facilities, surgical and rehabilitation centers, home health agencies, nursing homes and hospice and palliative care.

Through a network of more than 650 care locations, CHS partners with more than 1,900 physicians and 48,000 employees to serve more than 9 million patient encounters annually.

Carolinan HealthCare System also operates the region's only Level 1 trauma center at Carolinas Medical Center (CMC) near Uptown Charlotte. CMC is home to one of only five academic medical center teaching hospitals in North Carolina and serves as the Charlotte campus of the University of North Carolina School of Medicine.

Levine Children's Hospital, on the CMC campus, is one of the most comprehensive children's hospitals between Atlanta and Washington, DC It is ranked among the top 50 "Best Children's Hospitals" in the nation by U. S. News & World Report in six specialties.

In 2010, CHS embarked on a new delivery model for cancer care called Levine Cancer Institute, an enterprise-wide network dedicated to changing the way cancer care and treatments are delivered in communities served by CHS hospitals and providers.

One characteristic common to all CHS facilities is a shared mission of public service and outreach to all segments of the population. The system-wide value of CHS "community benefit" – which includes financial assistance to uninsured or underinsured patients, uncompensated medical services, education, research and volunteer service by employees – totals more than $1 billion annually.
