

Carolinas Medical Center-NorthEast

Cabarrus County Hospital opened in 1937 to accommodate a surge in population growth associated with the textile industry in and around Concord. Starting out with just 46 beds and 10 bassinets, the hospital grew steadily and in 1991 reorganized as a non-profit organization called NorthEast Medical Center. In 2007, the hospital merged with Carolinas HealthCare System and became known as Carolinas Medical Center-NorthEast.

CMC-NorthEast encompasses 457 acute care beds, a comprehensive mix of outpatient services, a large physician network with more than 60 clinics and a Level III Trauma Center. Jeff Gordon Children's Hospital offers pediatric specialties that include cardiology, endocrinology, gastroenterology, neurology, oncology, pulmonology, surgery and urology.

CMC-NorthEast features a pediatric pavilion and rehabilitation facility, a breast health center and mobile mammography unit, a renovated surgery center and radiation oncology unit, and a new inpatient pharmacy distribution system. CMC-NorthEast is bringing the county's first healthcare pavilion to Kannapolis. This is a freestanding emergency department with associated imaging and lab services.

CMC-NorthEast has built its reputation by continuously expanding services and adding new technologies, utilizing the skills of a hard-working, highly talented staff. Our uncompromising excellence and commitment to care give patients more of everything. It's who we are at CMC-NorthEast.
